

TEENAGE BOY OF HONOR

This is a boy who is confident, respects himself for what God has made him to be. He is:

- Focused on his education
- Honors his parents and their words
- Respects his teachers
- Trustworthy friend
- Has good behaviors (no drinking, smoking, sugar mummies, drugs)
- Does not look at women as sexual objects
- Committed to abstaining from sex until marriage
- Knows how to say NO to sex
- Practices sexual purity (pure mind and body)
- Knows his self-worth and value, he is not cheap
- Does house work at home and school and learns what he does not know
- Use their money to glorify God
- Respects women for what God made them to be
- Puts in practice the word of God
- Knows he is handsomely and wonderfully made by God (higher self-esteem)
- Strives to be a boy God wants him to be through learning about Him
- Does not engage in dubious acts to get money e.g. theft
- Trusts, depends on God for his education and future
- Above all, committed his life to the Lord and Knows with Him nothing is impossible

Look through that list, are you that boy? Usually we are not; therefore you can become that boy by:

- Committing your life to the Lord
- Set goals in your Life

- Setting biblical principles and godly values that you will follow in Life e.g. honesty, faithfulness, diligence and hard work.
- Through prayer ask God to change you, to make you a boy He wants you to be.

Prayer: Lord, thank you for loving me. Forgive me for all that I have done, I pray you will make me a boy of honor from today onwards. Change me that you will shine in me.

Please pray for one item for a time that God will help you. They will not come in your life unless you pray, trust God and also commit yourself to do it.